

Red Tape Keeps Young Mother On ADC Rolls

Debt To Government Prevents Reunification Of Family

BY JERRY KRINGER
County-Farm Editor

Bureaucratic government rules apparently would keep a young Benton Harbor mother of four on ADC here at $5,000 a year, rather than forgive or extend credit on a $1,100 bill she owes.

The $1,100 that Mrs. Janice Oryem, 640 Territorial road, owes to the U.S. government stands between her and her return to Uganda, where her husband is a Ugandan government economist.

Last Dec. 13 she received airline tickets from her husband that were to take her and their four children back to Uganda. The next day she and the children arrived at Dulles International airport in Washington, D.C., for the flight to Uganda.

But somewhere between Benton Harbor and Washington, she had lost her passport.

Frantic calls to the U.S. State department brought the red tape down on her head, as Mrs. Oryem related her story.

Her calls got her to a "Mr. Jackson", who, she said, informed her from the records that she owes the government $1,136. The American government paid that much to return Mrs. Oryem and her four youngsters to the United States, when she and her husband separated in Uganda in 1971.

Mrs. Oryem, now 27, met her future husband, Sylvius Oryem, a Ugandan citizen, while he was a student at Northwestern university in Evanston, Ill. They married on Jan. 1, 1967, and after he completed his studies at Northwestern the young family moved to Kampala, Uganda.

What she described as "culture shock"—life in America versus life in Uganda—led to her separation from her husband. It was then she asked the American embassy to get her and her children back to this country.

But almost immediately after getting back to America, she said, "I realized what a mistake I had made."

Letters back and forth between Mrs. Oryem and her husband quickly led to plans for getting the family back together—either by him coming to the U.S. or her and the children going back to Uganda.

Chances of Oryem getting clearance to come here were very slim. So he began to save money from his salary in Uganda that would bring his family back to him in east Africa.

Finally, in December he laid down $2,063.59 for the five airline tickets that would take his family flying back to him.

It was then that their hopes of a pre-Christmas reunion were dashed by the loss of Mrs. Oryem's passport and the State department's refusal to issue her a certificate to travel out of Later School Heavy Favorite Let The Sunshine Through!

The Sunshine Poll is developing into a torrent of support for changing school starting times because of DST morning darkness.

More than 400 replies have been received by this newspaper and the count shows 343 favoring a later start in the morning and 62 opposed. That's a margin of nearly 6 to 1—the same as when the first returns were counted Monday.

Replies have come from 19 school districts. Folks in Lakeshore take the most interest in the matter as 88 replies have been received with 75 "yes" votes and 13 "no."

St. Joseph district residents have cast the next most ballots—51 "yes" and 23 "no." St. Joseph also has the highest percentage of "no" votes.

Benton Harbor ranks third in voter turnout—62 "yes" and 8 "no." Then it's Coloma 22 to 6, Watervliet 17 to 4 and River Valley 15 to 5.

There are increasing suggestions that starting schools 30 minutes later would be more practical than an hour. Some who opt for 30 minutes voted "yes" and others voted "no." Ballots are counted according to "yes" and "no" marks.

The ballot reads:

"Should school districts in Southwestern Michigan start classes one hour later for the remainder of the winter months as a safety measure for children walking to school in darkness because of daylight saving time?"

Among comments received on ballots:

Lawrence—"Yes. We do not have children in school. They are in the road in front of our house long before daylight. We are using lights more hours now than before."

St. Joseph—"No. Ray Mittan, be damned! We voted. He should listen!"

(State Rep. Mittan Ray Mittan is an arch foe of daylight saving time. However, he does not have any constituents in the St. Joseph school district.)

River Valley—"No. The problem is not the time that school starts. The problem is this assinine DST. The Michigan Legislature should repeal this law at once or take whatever steps necessary to get rid of it."

St. Joseph—"No. We change again April, leave it alone."

Benton Harbor—"No. If changed, I could not take my boy to Hull (school) as I start work at 8:30, plus my daughter would not get home from high school by bus until 7:30 p. m."

The Sunshine Poll is a strictly unofficial undertaking of this newspaper, instituted to be of possible help in garnering grass roots sentiment for school boards of Southwestern Michigan. Ballots are being sent to the school districts from which the replies come.

So The poll coupon so far has been published only once—last Friday. For those who missed it but still may want a chance to voice their opinions, the coupon is published again today, on this page. Instructions for completing and mailing are contained in the coupon.

KIDNAP SUSPECT: Domenico Barbino, 27, is escorted by a plainclothes policeman as he leaves Rome police headquarters after being arrested in connection with the kidnaping of Paul Getty III. (AP Wirephoto)

Italy Holds Three In Getty Kidnap

ROME (AP) — Police arrested three men today and charged them with the kidnaping of J. Paul Getty III. A fourth man was sought.

One source said the police also recovered a cache of banknotes that probably were part of the $2.7 million ransom paid for the release of the 17-year-old grandson of American oil billionaire J. Paul Getty.

The police said they arrested one man in Rome and two in Calabria, at the southern tip of the Italian peninsula. The three and the man still at large are all natives of Calabria, the police said.

A few more people were arrested during the manhunt when weapons or drugs were found in their possession, but the police said they were not believed to be involved in the Getty case.

The man arrested in Rome was Domenico Barbino, 27, an orderly in the city's Policlinic Hospital of the Sacred Heart.

Police said those arrested in Calabria were Vincenzo Mammoliti, 43, and Antonio Mancuso, 35. Mammoliti was arrested among the olive groves of the Gioia Tauro plain at dawn, police said. Mancuso was picked up in the village of Cicala.

One of Getty's cars was cut off during his captivity and was mailed to a Rome newspaper as evidence that the kidnapers meant business. There was speculation that Barbino performed the operation.

The police said Mammoliti was wanted for other crimes committed by the Calabrian underworld but had escaped arrest for a long time. They said his family had a long criminal history and was also involved in a blood feud with another family clan in the village of Castelluccio.

Mammoliti's father was shot to death in 1954. Some of his relatives were arrested on suspicion of being involved in the 1968 kidnaping of a wealthy Calabrian landowner, but they

City Hall Staff, Including Mayor, Loses 173 Pounds

Keep Their Jobs

DEARBORN, Mich. (AP) — Whatever their advertised merits, water and laxative pills do one other thing: they saved Maureen Keane's job Tuesday.

Miss Keane, a former airline stewardess, was one of 18 Dearborn city officials who were threatened with suspension by Mayor Orville Hubbard if they did not lose a certain number of pounds by Tuesday, the last day for the mayor to reappoint his aides.

"I weighed myself the night before and found I weighed 122—that's two pounds over the weight I told the mayor I'd lose. Well, I just about panicked," said the 5-foot-3 blonde director of the city's Service Department.

Five water and laxative pills later, Miss Keane weighed in at public scales in city hall at 118, well below the weight required to keep her job.

She was not the only one spurred to exotic weight reducing measures by Mayor Hubbard, no lightweight himself at 266 pounds. He told his subordinates 13 days ago they'd have to lose weight or face suspension, as well as an early death from bad health habits.

All checked in at the deadline Tuesday below the weight limits they had set for themselves, dropping 173 pounds altogether, and finding themselves once more among the enlightened—in more ways than one—leadership of Dearborn.

Like kids with a new toy, they credited everything from 60 miles of jogging in less than two weeks to a half teaspoon of honey for breakfast.

The mayor himself, who stands 5-foot-11 and once tipped the scales at 327 pounds, shed 17 pounds during the 13-day period.

The weight watcher's plan wasn't the first example of Mayor Hubbard's vintage style during his national record-setting 33 years as Dearborn's chief executive.

He became the first mayor to punch a time clock in 1941 and once set up a government in exile across the Detroit River in Canada in an attempt to escape a libel suit.

But he says his weight-reducing plan has been his best idea yet. "Since we publicized our diet plan," he said, "We've gotten diet books and schemes from people all over the world, including a letter from a 19-year-old girl in Louisiana who said my diet program has restored her faith in public officials."

SETS EXAMPLE: Dearborn Mayor Orville Hubbard weighs in at 266 pounds Tuesday at the city hall. On Jan. 2 Hubbard ordered nineteen city officials to lose weight by Jan. 15 or not be reappointed. All nineteen complied, with the mayor setting an example by losing 17 pounds. (AP Wirephoto)

Wilbur Knew How We Felt While He Was Still Alive

One of Benton Harbor's all-time most distinguished citizens, W. M. Cunningham — lawyer, historian, author, archeologist — died Monday at age 87. We are pleased that while he lived, this newspaper acknowledged by editorial his rare contributions to the community and the nation. The editorial, herewith repeated in its entirety, was first published Oct. 27, 1966, as follows:

WOULD YOU BELIEVE HE'S FROM THE OLD SCHOOL?

You have to know Wilbur Cunningham for quite a while to believe he's really true.

His innate modesty keeps you from realizing at first that this Benton Harbor attorney is a very distinguished man.

He is also warm hearted, trustworthy, pure in deed and thought, and dedicated to his community and his country.

If we're making him sound like an idealized character in an Alger novel, why in many ways he is. But, also, he has a droll sense of humor and a twinkling smile that keep him interestingly human.

He announced Monday night he's gradually retiring from the practice of law and expects to hang up his shingle for good within two or three years. The Lake Michigan College board accepted his resignation as legal counsel for the college.

Cunningham first gained public attention as a star football player for Benton Harbor high school. He graduated from University of Michigan law school in 1912 and opened a law office here in 1913. At the U. of M., he coached football at Ann Arbor high school.

He served in the U.S. Navy during World War I, coming out with the rank of lieutenant-commander. He served four years as Berrien county prosecutor, 23 years as Benton Harbor city attorney, and almost a score of years as member and president of the Benton Harbor Board of Education.

In addition, he served as leader of civic organizations and campaigns too numerous to mention.

But his greatest fame has come because of hobbies: archeology and history.

He is generally recognized as perhaps the nation's leading amateur authority on Indian artifacts. Universities have published his papers. He was repeatedly elected president of the Michigan Archeological Society.

In 1961, he authored and published "Land of Four Flags," a history of the settlement and development of Southwestern Michigan. It went into four printings, by far the most widely read of any history of its type ever published in Michigan.

But Wilbur makes it easy to forget his accomplishments when you talk with him. His typical stance is with head cocked, listening.

Over the years we're not so sure it's what he's done, although that's considerable, but what he's been which has made him a singular individual and a living asset to the community.

He is just a confoundingly good man. So much so that it would irritate other common mortals were it not for his sincerity and warmth.

The better you get to know him, the more you realize here is a man who has been thinking and acting like Sir Galahad all his life. He doesn't seem to have a mean or unworthy thought.

He worships children; his regard for womanhood would do credit to Tom Swift. His heart goes out to the weak; he speaks ill of no one, not even those who oppose him. He loves his town and reveres the Republic. He outranks Teddy Roosevelt and Baden-Powell in his admiration of manliness — "a sound mind in a sound body." His word is his bond.

He behaves with the propriety of a deacon at a church supper; yet his black eyes snap with good cheer and the love of life.

And none of it is posed. Wilbur is the genuine article — a real gentleman of the old school.

Greying and erect, he may be something of an anachronism in this frenetic age. Somehow, as he walks down Pipestone to his office, we're apt to hear the ruffle of drums — and the words:

"Family, God, Country!"

Super Zip For Superbowl

Disappointed as we were that the Vikings lost, badly in fact, at Superbowl VIII, we wonder where the sports writers and TV commentators come off in putting down the Dolphins.

Their comment takes the line of sure, they are a great team, but why couldn't they have delivered a more spectacular performance?

If skyrockets are expected to make a big boom, that's one thing.

If a squad's first and foremost mission is to win the game, that's something else.

The Dolphins basically are a running team. Because they have the horses to establish that type of play, they take the air more as an element of surprise than as a gamble to gain yardage when their ground attack stalls.

This is the essence of ball control, something all coaches strive for even if the unlooker yearns for the 95-yard gallop or the 70-yard aerial.

The reason for the desire is self apparent. The longer the offense holds the play the less opportunity for the opponent to do anything. It is the acme of the teaching that the best defense is a strong offense.

The Dolphins worked the theory to perfection last Sunday. They held the ball for two-thirds of the game time, thereby forcing the Vikings into offensive gambles which backfired.

Woody Hayes had stressed this approach for his 20 years at Ohio State and most successfully. Bo Schembechler follows the same track at Ann Arbor. Substantially, Ara Parseghian directs Notre Dame in a like groove.

Occasionally, a passing team can exert ball control. Michigan's last appearance in the Rose Bowl against Stanford is one such painful reminder to Wolverine fans.

For the most part, however, the system depends on moving the ball for at least 10 yards over three consecutive downs.

If that game plan works, a coach would be foolish to throw in some risky dink plays for whatever thrills they might invoke from the audience.

Bud Grant, the loser at Superbowl, would be the first to compliment Don Shula's coaching capacity for not going to the spectacular when his bread and butter attack was lighting up the scoreboard.

Because football is great show biz, it is natural for the customers to cry for the razzle dazzle and those reporting on the game are no more immune from that virus than the person buying his first ticket into a stadium.

Another element in Superbowl's post mortem was the sympathy vote the Vikings took into the contest. Just about everyone outside the Miami area was hoping the Minnesota aggregation would finally make the big grade.

That the Dolphins sliced the Vikes like so much cheese makes the defeat that much saltier to swallow.

If the abjuration, may the best team win, is to have any meaning at all, the Dolphins deserve more than faint praise.

In Swaziland some medicine men use ventriloquism to make clients believe they are communicating with spirits, the National Geographic says.

The vast Yellowstone-Teton Wilderness complex is home to probably the largest single group of grizzly bears left in the contiguous United States, an estimated 250 animals, according to the National Geographic Society's new book, "Wilderness U.S.A."

Civic Leaders And Students Honor Dr. King

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

The birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., Tuesday was marked by the dedication of a million dollar highway in his name in Benton township.

It was also observed by high school students in Benton Harbor who were only elementary students when Dr. King was assassinated six years ago. Dr. King was born Jan. 15, 1929, and died from an assassin's bullet on April 4, 1968.

Gov. William Milliken designated Jan. 15 as Martin Luther King, Jr. day in Michigan.

The $988,000 highway named in his memory is the new northbound M-139. The dedication ceremony, with Benton township Supervisor Martin J. Lane cutting the ribbon, was held at the corner of Martin Luther King drive and Britain avenue as a large crowd watched.

Following the dedication, persons adjourned to the Pilgrim Rest Baptist church, 1105 East Main street, for a luncheon program.

State Rep. Jackie Vaughn (D-Detroit) was slated as the main speaker, but sources said he was unable to attend because the legislature was in session.

Expressing Vaughn's regrets at not being able to attend, and speaking in his behalf, was Josephine Martin, who represents the manpower-liaison office in the Michigan House.

She said the idea of naming the new road for King was fine, but added: "A highway is not sufficient to change life. We must incorporate more than just his name into our lives; we must incorporate his ideals."

She also noted that the first blacks arrived in this country some 350 years ago, and yesterday was the first time a day had been set aside in honor of a black man.

"I hope his memory won't end with the naming of a highway," she stated.

Community leaders also spoke of Dr. King and his goals. Said Benton Harbor Mayor Charles F. Joseph: "What he offered for us is still going on."

Noting the selection of the name for the new road as "a sign of a progressive community", Berrien Sheriff Forrest (Nick) Jewell said: "I don't know of any other name that would have been more appropriate."

At morning and afternoon assemblies at Benton Harbor high school, students, faculty, and clergy paid tribute to Dr. King through songs, poems, and speeches.

Keynote speaker was George Westfield, Berrien county friend of the court. Westfield referred to Dr. King's famous "I Have a Dream" speech, and highlighted the challenges Dr. King spoke of.

"The dream will only become a reality when all systems are 'Go,'" said Westfield.

"To make changes in the world we must make changes in our attitudes. This is our challenge and responsibility, and until we do all systems won't be 'Go.'"

He added the challenge to students is to attend classes and further their education, and the challenge to instructors is to try to reach every student and motivate them to higher goals.

The assemblies were sponsored by the Black Students' Civics Association.

NEW ROAD DEDICATED: In observance of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday yesterday, officials dedicated the new northbound M-139 as Martin Luther King drive. Peoples State Bank Profits Set Record

Directors of Peoples State Bank of St. Joseph have voted to increase the annual dividend by 20 cents a share, from $1.00 to $1.20.

Announcement of the boost came at the annual stockholders' meeting yesterday as President John S. Stubblefield and Executive Vice President Orville Schrage reported that 1973 was the best year in the bank's history.

Net earnings after taxes and dividends were $5.25 per share, compared with $3.79 a share for the prior year of 1972.

The $1.20 dividend was payable yesterday to stockholders of record Jan. 2.

Meeting at the bank's South branch in the Colonial Heights section of St. Joseph, stockholders were presented a variety of statistics on the bank's present condition and its growth.

One standout feature was the manner in which the bank's capital accounts (stockholders' equity and reserves) have been increased by plowing back profits and going easy on dividends.

Peoples State was established Jan. 9, 1932, with capitalization of $62,500: $50,000 capital, $10,000 surplus, $2,500 in reserves. Another $100,000 worth of stock was sold Sept. 25, 1961, giving at that time total invested capital accounts of $162,500.

As of Dec. 31, 1973, the capital accounts total stood at $2,889,742.68, an increase of $2,727,242.68 — all from plowed-back earnings.

A total of $582,625 was paid out in dividends from 1932 through 1973.

The bank's capital accounts as of year-end 1973 were: capital — $500,000.00, surplus — $1,600,000, reserves — $420,193.75, undivided profits — $369,548.93, total — $2,889,742.68.

Original investors in Peoples State paid $25 in 1932 for each share of stock. Because of stock splits, each of those shares is now 10 shares. Each present-day share has a market value of about $28 and a book value of approximately $57.

With deposits totaling $32,536,044.97 the last day of 1973, the bank had a 11.26 ratio of capital accounts to deposits.

The strong ratio reflects the conservative approach taken by directors since the bank was founded as the sole St. Joseph bank after the Great Depression of the early 1930s had seen the city's only two banks close.

For the first eight years, Peoples State paid no dividends, putting all earnings back into reserves. Thereafter until 1971 nominal dividends were paid stockholders. In 1971, the dividend was raised from 50 cents to $1.00 and paid for two years.

The new dividend of $1.20 means the stock now yields about 4.6 per cent on market value — a fairly respectable yield on bank stock. But with earnings of $5.25 per share, the $4.20 going into reserves can still be rated a conservative approach.

In total, the bank's gross profit for 1973 was $374,898.33 before income tax. The net after taxes and dividends, added to reserves, was $262,341.78, compared with $189,701.05 for the prior year, 1972.

Average deposits for the year were $29,117,214.52, another all-time high. And total deposits for the year were $614,015,345.36, producing a velocity of deposits ratio of 21.04.

President Stubblefield noted the ratio means that deposits turned over almost twice a month. This reflects the inflation the nation is going through, he said. By way of contrast, he added, the same ratio was 12.32 in 1962, meaning deposits were turning over only about once a month.

Inflation causes depositors to need and use their money faster, he explained.

The bank made 3,619 commercial loans during 1973, totaling $15,147,721.10, according to the figures presented by Stubblefield and Schrage. There were 70 mortgage loans totaling $1,454,282.98.

Directors of the bank are Amil Maschke, Lester Tiscornia, Charles Edinger, Herbert Mendel, Robert Miller, Jack Sparks, Stubblefield and Schrage.

Benton Treasurer Renews Blast At Federal 'Strings'

For the second time this month Benton township Treasurer James Culby has blasted the restrictions placed on federal money in the township.

At last night's board of trustees meeting, a request was presented asking that the local NDP program be allowed to spend $400 in federal money to send a representative to the Minority Contractors Association meeting next week in Los Angeles.

A short discussion ensued, and then Culby commented: "If we can't spend it (the money) to rehabilitate a home or install a water line then we should send it back to the government in a gold envelope."

Two weeks ago the board learned the NDP (Neighborhood Development Program) had to refund $223,936 to the federal government because the grant had been sent to the township eight months too late. At that time Culby declared: "Those guys in Washington should stay in Washington, and it's time we stopped taking their money."

The board did not vote on the matter of approving the although voiced their disapproval of using the money and sided with Culby.

Said Clerk Ralph Dahn: "Since we didn't vote on it, it died."

The township is the overseer for NDP money used in the township.

Judd Spray, township-NDP coordinator and liaison officer, brought up the request, and said the money would come from the NDP administrative section.

Culby stated the money could better be used to rehabilitate a home or help a needy family, and Spray agreed. But Spray noted the $400 could not be used for rehabilitation since it had been earmarked for administration by the federal government.

Spray also said that if the money was not spent it would later have to be refunded—to the federal government, not the township.

In another matter, Dahn asked that representatives from two competing ambulance services in the township have certified public accountants draw up financial reports for each company.

The firms involved are Rampart and Action ambulance companies.

Action is subsidized by the township, along with other local municipalities, and Rampart has been asking the township to drop the subsidy to Action.

Dahn said he wanted the reports by the Feb. 5 meeting.

The board also discussed the traffic problem near Fairplain Plaza, and Supervisor Martin Lane and Police Chief Joseph Sieber both said they had been trying to get a signal at M-139 and Napier avenue that would allow left turns for a brief period during the light's phases.

Dahn said the cost for such a signal would be split by the county and state highway departments, and added he felt the reason nothing was being done was because the county was awaiting the outcome of the City of Fairplain incorporation movement.

He noted that the proposed city might include the Napier-M-139 intersection.

May 6 SJ Tax Election Suggested

The St. Joseph citizens advisory council will recommend a May 6 millage election to the St. Joseph Board of Education.

The council's finance committee also scheduled a meeting for Feb. 6 to go over details plans for the election, Chairman Keith Wolff reported.

The board of education has not yet set an election date, but asked the advisory council for opinion on a May 6 vote. The board also set the amount of the millage that will be sought — 4.3 mills in extra voted operating millage has expired.

Meeting last night at Jefferson school, the members of the council heard Superintendent of Schools Richard Ziehmmer outline the alternatives of holding an election May 6 vs. June 10—the regular board election date.

Dr. Ziehmmer said there are advantages in presenting election data while children are in school rather than after vacation has started.

The advisory council's building and site committee also sent a priority list of building repairs to the board of education for consideration. Top items are roof repairs at Milton Junior High school and St. Joseph Senior High school. No. 2 on the priority list is installation of sprinkler system in storage areas in the high school as ordered by the state fire marshal.

These projects need to be officially considered so Business Manager Dennis Percy can seek bids.

Airman Arrives For Duty

NILES — Air Force Staff Sergeant John F. DeMan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John DeMan, Niles, has arrived for duty at Kunsan AB, Korea.

Sgt. DeMan, a transportation supervisor, is assigned to a unit of the Pacific Air Forces.

His wife, the former Rita Webber, is from Valparaiso, Ind.

Export Workshop Monday For Twin Cities Firms

An export workshop to encourage Twin City area business and industry to consider selling their products abroad will be held next Monday at Win Schuler's restaurant, Stevensville.

The workshop will feature Charles S. Besterman, director of the Michigan Department of Commerce International division office in Brussels, and Edward S. Dubel, who holds the same post in Tokyo.

Sponsors of the workshop, starting at 10 a.m. are Twin Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Michigan Department of Commerce International division.

Besterman and Dubel will describe experiences in foreign market places and tell of export opportunities for Michigan products.

The afternoon session, conducted by state and federal authorities, will cover foreign credit insurance, transportation, documentation and other topics basic to export trade.

The appearances of Besterman and Dubel will be their first in Michigan since their foreign offices were opened in 1973. Besterman was director of New York state's Brussels office before taking the Michigan post. Dubel was a commercial officer at the U.S. embassy in Tokyo, prior to joining the Michigan department. Invitations have been mailed by the Chamber of Commerce to

Upton To Head Special Gifts Unit

Robert C. Upton, director and group vice president of Whirlpool Corp., has been named special gifts chairman to handle the business and industry sectors for the 1974 March of Dimes campaign in Berrien County.

Upton joined Whirlpool in 1945, was named group vice president in 1965, and is responsible for corporate relations with Sears, Roebuck and Co. and for the St. Paul division. He is also chairman of the board of Heil-Quaker Corp., a majority-owned Whirlpool subsidiary, and a director of Inghis Ltd., of Toronto, Canada, which manufactures home appliances, another Whirlpool affiliate.

Upton is a trustee of St. Joseph Memorial hospital, president of the Planned Parenthood Association of Southwestern Michigan, and a director of the Economic Club of Southwestern Michigan.

New Buffalo City Manager Quits Under Council Fire

NEW BUFFALO — City Manager Bernard Taylor resigned from his post under fire from the city council last night.

Following acceptance of Taylor's resignation, Mayor William Marx acknowledged that the council had requested the resignation Friday. He said, however, that the council would make no comment as to why Taylor was asked to resign. The resignation is effective Jan. 18.

Marx said no public hearing on Taylor's behalf was planned, since under the city charter the manager served at the pleasure of the council.

On Taylor's request, the council agreed to pay him two full months salary beyond the effective resignation date. Taylor was hired by the council in September 1972 and was receiving $15,000 per year.

In other areas, petitions were filed with the council prior to the meeting by citizens both against and for Chief Dale Siebenmark and his department.

One petition, filed by Mrs. Judy Palen, 1220 Indiana, bearing 82 signatures, demanded the dismissal of Siebenmark and asked the council to restructure the entire police department.

The petition stated, in part, that "the police department is not fit mentally, morally or otherwise to serve the city." The petition also stated that many citizens were unable to sign out of fear or because they were in business.

Petitions presented by Don Wehner, 311 Whittaker, bearing more than 300 signatures, supported Siebenmark and the regular and reserve officers and asked the council to halt further defamation of the department.

Marx told some 40 people attending that the council would act within the provisions of the charter, subpoena anyone necessary, and investigate the entire matter thoroughly.

In other business, the council hired the G. L. Wightman engineering firm, St. Joseph, to study the problem of ground water seeping into the city's sanitary sewer system. Wightman's bid was $9,500, compared to a $15,000 bid by Clyde E. Williams and Associates, South Bend.

Marx said the study was necessary before state and federal grants will be considered for the Galien river sanitary sewer project with New Buffalo and Chikaming townships. He said up to 80 per cent of the cost of the study is eligible for a federal grant.

The council was advised by letter from the Department of Natural Resources that connections to the existing sanitary sewer south of the city, across the Chesapeake and Ohio tracks, must be limited only to existing developments until such time as adequate waste water treatment facilities are available.

A request by Michael Kerhoulas for rezoning of land on North Chicago street from single to multiple family residential was tabled pending a public hearing. Kerhoulas said he wants to construct four-unit apartment buildings on the property.

The council voted to sell the city's 1971 model police car by sealed bid. Acting as the water board, the council advised senior citizens, 65 years and older, to contact the city clerk to seek a reduction in their city water bill.

Marx said the board had not completed a reduced rate scheduled for senior citizens as yet, but that they could begin making application.

Disabled persons under 65 will also be considered for a lower rate, said Marx.

Following complaints from citizens in attendance about their high water bills, Marx said the water board will refund or deduct from bills any over charges if it finds that the budget was set too high.

Water rates were increased in August to pay for revenue bonds sold to finance the city's new lake water intake plant. Marx said money to pay for the water system previously was taken from property taxes, which was not legal.

Sodus Tax Collections

Sodus Township Treasurer Ronald Schroeder said he will be at the township hall tonight from 7-9 p.m. to collect taxes and assist citizens with tax questions. A dog vaccination clinic will also be held, he said.

TAKES OATH OF OFFICE: Fred Edgerton of Plainwell, right, takes oath of office as Allegan county treasurer yesterday after being appointed to fill vacancy. Appointment was made by panel of other three men in picture as provided for under state law. They are, left to right, Probate Judge Dwight Cheever, County Clerk Russell Sill and Prosecuting Attorney Gary Stewart. Edgerton succeeds late James Boyce who died Christmas day.

Edgerton Selected As New Allegan County Treasurer

ALLEGAN — Fred Edgerton, 57, of 413 West Bridge street, Plainwell, was appointed Allegan county treasurer yesterday, filling a vacancy created by the death of James Boyce on Dec. 25.

Edgerton, to accept the appointment, resigned his position on the Allegan county board of commissioners. He was serving as district 12 commissioner.

A life-long county resident, Edgerton and his wife, Kathryn, have one daughter, Shelly. He is a native of Watson township and a 1935 graduate of Allegan high school. He resumed his education in 1963 as a pre-law student at Western Michigan university, completing his studies in 1966.

He served in the army as a platoon sergeant during World War II in the African and European theaters where he received the Purple Heart with two Oak Leaf clusters, the Meritorious Service and Combat Infantryman's badge.

From 1952 to 1972 he owned and operated a Plainwell restaurant. During the same period he served as a reserve city police officer and Allegan county deputy sheriff. He was elected to the first of three terms on the county board in 1968.

An active Republican for more than 20 years, he served as finance chairman for the 1970 campaign. Other affiliations include the Lions Club, Otsego Elks Lodge.

Edgerton once before resigned as a county board member to accept appointment to a county job. The first time was in 1971 when he left the board to serve as probation officer for the Allegan district court. He left that job to win re-election as a commissioner after board membership was reduced from 21 to 12 as a result of reapportionment.

His selection as Boyce's successor was announced by Probate Judge Dwight Cheever, senior member of a three-man committee named by law to make the appointment.

Others on the committee were County Clerk Russell Sill and Prosecuting Attorney Gary Stewart.

Judge Cheever said the choice was "difficult" because so many well-qualified persons had offered themselves for the post.

I&M Gives $65,000 For Lake Michigan Algae Study

Indiana & Michigan Electric Co. has announced a $65,000 grant to the Great Lakes Research Division of the University of Michigan for research on the algal quality of Lake Michigan in 1974.

Announcement was made by Robert M. Kopper, Fort Wayne, I&M executive vice president, who said the grant boosts to $335,000 the amount contributed by the company for Lake Michigan research in the past four years.

The research is focused on minute plant life in Lake Michigan and its relationship to water quality.

Kopper said the program proposed for 1974 by the Great Lakes Research Division is to explore remaining questions and prepare publication of the research.

The study of the lake is being conducted under direction of Dr. John C. Ayres and Dr. Eugene F. Stoermer. Dr. Ayres, professor of oceanography, has appeared as an expert witness for I&M, testifying that studies show heated discharges from power plants have not damaged Lake Michigan. I&M is completing the Donald C. Cook nuclear plant at Bridgman.

Fewer Deeds Recorded In '73

down 1,320 from the year before, but money turned over to the county general fund was up because of a $1 per-page increase for all recorded documents, said Mrs. Judith Litke, county register of deeds.

Her office produced $145,828 for the general fund last year after expenses, up from $124,559 in 1972.

The National Association of Realtors reported sales of existing homes dropped in 1973 because of tight money, with a recent national survey pegging interest rates at 9 to 9.5 per cent, Mrs. Litke said.

Meanwhile, 11 newly developed subdivisions were recorded in Berrien county in 1973, the same number as in 1972, she said.

Mrs. Litke's office generated $226,407 in fees in 1973, well below the $339,393 of the year before because massive sheriff's sale redemptions of 1972 dropped to a trickle for 1973.

Owners redeeming sheriff's sales accounted for $144,834 of 1972 fees, but only $6,278 in 1973, Mrs. Litke reported. Redemption monies do not remain in the office but are promptly paid out.

82ND BIRTHDAY HONORS: Robert Sturkin was named "Elk of the Year" and honored for 34 years' service as secretary of St. Joseph Elks lodge last night. There were 200 persons on hand for a buffalo dinner. Sturkin was presented $250 which he gave to Ralph Shoemaker (left) of Grand Rapids, president of the Michigan Elks Association for the Elks crippled children's fund. Exalted Ruler Ray Horn-dach (right) presented Sturkin with the Elk of the year award as Mrs. Sturkin looked on. Co-Chairmen of the dinner were Lamont Tufts and Frank Kotyuk. (Staff Photo)

South Haven To Continue Voluntary Attendance Plan

By TOM RENNER

South Haven Correspondent

SOUTH HAVEN — Continuation of a voluntary class attendance plan for high school students in the South Haven public schools system received approval from South Haven school board last night.

The plan, initiated at the start of the current school year on a trial basis in an attempt to reduce truancy and tardiness, allows a student to be absent from a class up to 18 times during a semester before being dropped from the class.

Howard Jessup, assistant high school principal, reported an improvement in the attendance patterns of students since the plan was started. Jessup also indicated that the policy has been well received by parents.

The plan will continue through the remainder of the school year and will be reviewed next summer.

In other areas, an increase in the cost of food has resulted in a deficit through the first three months of the hot lunch program according to Edwin Grunst, administrative assistant. Grunst reported a $1,907 deficit from the 88,874 meals served. Grunst said that an anticipated increase in aid from the federal government could erase the deficit and recommended that the current 45 cents per meal cost be maintained.

The board was informed that results of the Michigan assessment test given to fourth and seventh grade students indicated a better mastery of math concepts than reading concepts.

The board authorized an expenditure of $610 for a self-evaluation of the programs of the elementary system. The evaluation will be coordinated by the Association for the Evaluation of Elementary Schools and will take the remainder of the current school year.

Action on bids for two new 66 passenger buses was tabled pending a determination by the administration as to the availability of funding. Grunst noted that fuel costs for the transportation system has increased 20 per cent over last year. The new buses would replace 1958 and 1963 models.

The board said it was not opposed to a proposal by the Wolverine conference to adjust admission prices for athletic events beginning with the 1974-75 school year. The price of admission to varsity football and basketball games would be increased 25 cents to 1.50 for adults and $1 for students while the cost for other varsity events such as swimming, wrestling and track would reduced 25 cents to $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. High school principal Adrian Slikkers indicated that the cost of a 10 admission season ticket would remain at $10.

Slikkers reported that the Wolverine conference is planning to adjust its spring sports schedule to reduce fuel consumption by team buses. He said that double dual track meets and doubleheader baseball games are being proposed to reduce the travel requirements.

The mini-course program will be offered to high school students Feb. 18-22. The curriculum allows students to take part in a varied form of education utilizing the knowledge of community leaders as well as the faculty.

VAN BUREN GET-TOGETHER: Mrs. Michele Atkinson, left, and Mrs. Elmyra Hearn, Michigan's only two female drain commissioners, got together in Mrs. Hearn's office in Van Buren courthouse yesterday to exchange tips on positions. Mrs. Atkinson was elected Muskegon county drain commissioner in 1972, unseating man who had held job 22 years. Mrs. Hearn was appointed Van Buren drain chief last fall, following death of former commissioner Glenn Smiley. (Staff photo)

Health Department Moving Next Week

The Berrien county health department will be closed next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday to relocate from the courthouse in St. Joseph to a new headquarters at 769 Pipestone, Benton Harbor.

The closings affect all health department operations except the Niles office and clinics, according to Jerry Erickson, administrator.

It will reopen at the new site 8:30 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 24. The new telephone number is 926-7121.

It's not been decided which county agencies will use third-floor courthouse space being vacated by the health department, to Erickson's knowledge.

A new addition, parking lot expansion and a second driveway are yet to be built at the new headquarters.

The new health department home is the former headquarters of the old Fidelity Insurance Co. The building was purchased by the county last February for a price of $185,000.

Choose Citrus Favorites From Jewel's Winter Garden!

Right now in your Jewel Produce Market you'll find an exciting variety of fresh citrus fruits — and just in time for the winter cold season. Look for favorites like sweet, juicy California Navel oranges and Tangerines, Florida Juice and Temple Oranges and deliciously fresh grapefruit. Or try something really different. There's Tangelos, Minneola and other intriguing treats, all rich in Vitamin C and the very freshest available.

Jewel invites you and your family to a world of fascinating reading!

IT'S EVERYTHING YOU'D EXPECT FROM ONE OF THE MOST RECOGNIZED NAMES IN REFERENCE MATERIALS!

- The complete set includes 25 handsome, yet durable volumes.
- In addition, 2 separate volumes of index and bibliography are available for easy cross-reference.
- Funk & Wagnall's encyclopedia includes a full color world atlas with fold-out maps.
- Find thousands of illustrations... many in color.
- Compilation involved over 300 contributors, many Nobel and Pulitzer prize winners.
- Enjoy easy-to-read print and style... written for every member of your family

You'll have the entire world at your fingertips! From the ancient Egyptian civilization to man's latest ventures in space, from the amazing details of nature to the cultural achievements of men... there's a wealth of man's knowledge in the Funk & Wagnall's new encyclopedia. An encyclopedia which has taken more than four years to research, write, design and illustrate, it's written in a style and format that's easy to understand, yet accurate in every detail.

And, the folks at Jewel are proud to help you collect your own complete set in a way that's convenient and money-saving too. Each week, you may purchase a volume of Funk & Wagnall's encyclopedia at your Jewel. Your first volume is only 49c, then each volume afterward, including the index and bibliography is only $1.99. So, why not take home the first volume and browse through it at your leisure. Then, you'll want to take advantage of this exciting offer from Jewel!
